

Richmond Kwesi Ansah

My name is Richmond KwesiAnsah. I am a graduate of Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology (KNUST). I read BSc. Business Administration (Logistics and Supply Chain Management option). I graduated from KNUST School of Business in July 2017, and I am a proud beneficiary of Educational Pathways International (EPI).

I want to tell the world about EPI and what it has done in my life:

After completing Senior High school, attending the university was a very big challenge for me and my family. I applied to EPI for a scholarship and it was granted to me. Nothing could have been more thrilling than my hearing of the news that I have been granted the scholarship. What seemed impossible to me became possible, and my dream became a reality. When EPI granted me the scholarship, I presumed EPI was just going to take care of my academic finances, I was wrong. EPI literally took care of all my academic expenses, moulded my personality, created a family for me, and EPI was there to help me with any issue I had during my course of study. All the beneficiaries met frequently to undergo training for life development. EPI nurtured me and brought the best out of me while taking care of my educational expenses.

Now that I have graduated from university, I would want to make a positive impact on society. Though that was not my field of study, I have the passion for ecological conservations. I want to engage in ecological conservation programs and try as much as I can to restore nature to its rightful place.

I want to mentor the talented children in my community who are less privileged to bring out their talents and climb unto higher heights in academics. Sometime in the future, when I am well established, I will lend a helping hand to EPI to assist the brilliant but needy students in the society.
