

Eric Ofori

Eric Ofori is my name and I offered Be'd Basic Education at the University for Development Studies in Tamale, Ghana. In 2015, I joined Educational Pathways International (EPI) scholarship program and I have never regretted been part of the family. Financially, Educational Pathways International has helped me to achieve my educational goal which is to complete my first degree in Education with a respectable class. This is because monetary problem which put pressure on me and my family was catered for by Educational Pathways International, giving me a freedom of mind to study and also get access to materials that will help me in my study in the noble university (University for Development Studies).

Educational Pathways International has impacted spiritually, socially, academically and helped shaped my whole being to become a complete individual.

My Primary goal towards my academics was to acquire a good grade and be the best in my field of study. Through Educational Pathways International scholarship program, I have been able to make it.

I chose to offer Be'd Basic Education at University for Development Studies because I love to impart knowledge and guide pupils through the teaching and learning process. Teaching is a profession I have wished to do from childhood to adulthood because I of encounters with selfless and committed teachers who impacted positively in my life as a student. This motivated me to also pursue teaching as a profession in order to help others with the God gifted talent I have and the professional training I have acquired in school.

I love to teach where ever I find myself and when given the opportunity, I deliver it to satisfaction. My career goal is to become a great and renowned Educationist and am working towards it, thus to further my education to the top. In the near future I want to put smile on the faces of less privileged people in my community and the country as a whole and also help to improve the standard of education in my community. This can be achieved through selfless sacrifice as a teacher towards my students and the schools I will be teaching within.

I thank God Almighty for how far He has brought me in this journey of life to where I have reached today and also to my Educational Pathways International big family for the support, care, love, mentoring and above all helping me to reach my dream, I say thank you all.
