

DENNIS OWUSU

My name is Dennis Owusu, a graduate of Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology (KNUST), in the Ashanti Region of Ghana. I have been on Educational Pathways International (EPI) scholarship for the past four years and I would like to say 'Ayekoo' (Well done) to EPI for giving me the opportunity to pursue my academic goals by obtaining a First-Class Honors Bachelor's degree in Biochemistry without any hindrance. This scholarship gave me the opportunity to study smoothly to attain the academic excellence I want by providing me with a full scholarship. This scholarship also helped me to engage in a lot of non-academic activities such as leadership seminars, competitions and training workshop to build myself up for my career goals since all issues concerning financial burden had been taken care of.

EPI did not only provide me financial support to complete my undergraduate degree but gave me the opportunity to acquire a lot of skills that are not taught in the classroom.

In future, I intend to become a Neurosurgeon and establish a company that seeks to use advanced technologies in health to improve the quality of healthcare in the Ghana by creating avenues for certain surgeries which cannot be conducted in the country at the moment. I also intend to further my education to obtain a Master degree and PhD in Neurosurgery, which is the reason I chose Biochemistry at the undergraduate level.

Studying Biochemistry gave me a fair idea about how the chemical processes with living organism operate, thereby being able to understand and solve biological problems. Establishing a non-profit organization where I can create internships for medical students around the country and allowing them to travel to isolated communities to provide free medical services has always been my dream so I started volunteering to teach in senior high schools in isolated communities during semester breaks. Confidently, with the mentorship from EPI, I am assured of making this goal a reality.

Words are not enough to express my gratitude towards EPI. My family and I will forever be grateful to Educational Pathways International and all those who contributed to make this a reality. Thank you so much.
