

DR. FREDERICK ASAMOAH

I am Frederick Asamoah, a newly graduated medical student with Bachelor of Sciences and Bachelor of Medicine and Surgery (MBChB) from the University of Development Studies (UDS) in Tamale in the northern part of Ghana. I was blessed to be part of the wonderful family of Educational Pathways International (EPI) scholarship in my sophomore year in the medical school and this has really changed my story. I was on a full scholarship which covered all my financial needs at the university. Being part of this family has made my childhood dream of becoming a Medical Doctor a reality.

After experiencing a painful demise of my younger brother as a child as a result of inadequacy of health personnel to attend to him in time, I told myself that I will become a Medical Doctor in the future in order to save others especially, children so as to prevent the occurrences of such circumstances in my country because children are the future.

In order to advance in my medical knowledge, I would like to further specialize in Pediatrics and Child health in the coming years to enable me to provide good and quality healthcare to children as I have always dreamt of.

My story would have been one that started medical school but couldn't finish, if it hadn't been for EPI scholarship, not because of poor academic performance but because of financial constraints. EPI has not only helped me financially, but has also prepared me to fit into my career, community and also in the job market due to the various seminars organized for the beneficiaries of EPI.
