

SYLVESTER NARTEY

I am Sylvester Nartey, a former beneficiary of Educational Pathways International scholarship. I studied BSc. Biochemistry, Cell and Molecular Biology at the University of Ghana, Legon.

The Educational Pathways International scholarship is a beacon of transformation in my life. The comprehensive scholarship I was given allowed me to focus on my academic pursuits. Through access to resources, mentorship and a network of scholars, Educational Pathways International (EPI) broadened horizons, shaping my future filled with possibilities. The scholarship instilled resilience, fostering a mind-set of innovation and determination.

My dream is to become a Medical Doctor in the future. I have studied Biochemistry, Cell, and Molecular Biology and plan to continue my academic journey by pursuing medicine. I chose this programme because it will provide me with more knowledge and skills before

I enter medical school at the postgraduate level. Additionally, all medications prescribed by Doctors are based on Biochemical examinations.

My future profession as a Medical Doctor will ensure that I make important contributions to Ghana's development. Many people die of diseases and as a Medical Doctor I will conduct research to minimize and eradicate them. This will help maintain and restore the health conditions of the citizens in Ghana. I also aim to initiate educational programmes that promote scientific literacy among Ghanaian youth. This endeavour seeks to inspire budding minds, nurturing a generation passionate about science and research, ultimately fostering national development.

I am very grateful to Educational Pathways International for their support. My gratitude expressed towards Educational Pathways International is boundless. It wasn't just financial aid but also a pivotal force shaping my trajectory. The scholarship's impact extends far beyond academics, shaping character and paving the way for a promising future. This generosity has turned my dreams into a reality. I cannot emphasize the financial relief that Educational Pathways International Scholarship has made my life.

Thank you for believing in my potential and granting me this invaluable opportunity.